CEDA

We help you build sustainable buildings

Commercial and Multifamily

Willdan, implementer of the California Energy Design Assistance (CEDA) program, provides complimentary whole building energy design assistance and financial incentives to offset the cost of implementing energy-efficient strategies for multifamily and commercial new construction.

Our team of energy specialists align to your project goals and customize energy efficiency options to maximize energy savings and incentives.

When you make informed decisions on energy-efficient design options that exceed the efficiency standards of a code-constructed building, you and your clients benefit with financial savings year over year.

- In early design phases
- Located in a Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E[®]), SCE[®], SoCalGas[®], or SDG&E[®] service territory with an eligible rate structure
- Project team interest and commitment to evaluating energy efficiency options
- New construction or a major alteration

Major alterations must meet one or more of the following criteria:

- Changes in space function (building or space occupancy type of change)
- Substantial changes (≥30%) in design occupancy (square feet per person)
- Increase (≥10%) in conditioned floor area
- Any expansion or addition of substantial process or conditioning load to an existing facility

CEDA is funded by California utility customers and administered by Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E) and supported by the state's other investor-owned utilities, (IOUs), under the auspices of the California Public Utilities Commission. Program funds, including any funds utilized for rebates or incentives, will be allocated on a first-come, first-served basis until such funds are no longer available. This program may be modified or terminated without prior notice. Customers who choose to participate in this program are not obligated to purchase any additional goods or services offered by Willdan or any other third party. The selection, purchase, and ownership of goods and/or services are the sole responsibility of customer. None of the IOUs make any warranty, whether express or implied, including the warranty of merchantability or fitness for a particular purpose, of goods or services selected by customer. None of the IOUs endorse, qualify, or guarantee the work of Wildan or any other third party. Eligibility requirements apply; see the program conditions for details.
